DETAILED ACTION

Claims 13 and 20 are pending in the instant application.

Reasons For Allowance

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claim 13 recites a process of identifying music comprising, inter alia, the consumer recording a segment of music that is audible to the consumer using a portable communication device, and the consumer transmitting said recorded musical segment from said portable communication device into a central processing unit.

The prior art of record neither anticipates nor fairly and reasonably teaches this combination of structure.

Pocock (U.S. Patent No. 6,314,577) neither anticipates or fairly and reasonably teaches a process of identifying music comprising, the consumer recording a segment of music that is audible to the consumer using a portable communication device, and the consumer transmitting said recorded musical segment from said portable communication device into a central processing unit. Pocock is merely devoted to a method that enables listeners and viewers of a broadcast to access additional information associated with the broadcast.

It is observed that none of the references of record, either alone or in combination with any other reference of record teach the consumer recording a segment of music that is audible to the consumer using a portable communication device.

Claim 20 recites a method for purchasing a music item comprising, inter alia, the following steps: the consumer directing a microphone of a portable communication device towards the source of audible music, and the consumer activating the portable communication device to transmit a segment of the audible music to the remotely located music identification/purchasing system.

Pocock (U.S. Patent No. 6,314,577) neither anticipates or fairly and reasonably teaches a method of the consumer directing a microphone of a portable communication device towards the source of audible music, and the consumer activating the portable communication device to transmit a segment of the audible music to the remotely located music identification/purchasing system. Pocock is merely devoted to a method that enables listeners and viewers of a broadcast to access additional information associated with the broadcast.

It is observed that none of the references of record, either alone or in combination with any other reference of record teach the consumer directing a microphone of a portable communication device towards the source of audible music using a portable communication device.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Examiner Comments - Oath/Declaration

The Declaration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.131 filed on November 12, 2004 in conjunction with the Supplemental Declaration filed on December 3, 2004 under 37 CFR 1.131 is sufficient to overcome the Kenyon (U.S. Patent Application Publication 2002/0023020 A1) reference.

The Supplemental Declaration filed on December 3, 2004 was filed in order to show evidence of diligence from a time just prior to September 21, 1999 up to the constructive reduction to practice of the instant invention (provisional application 60/158,087 filed October 7, 1999).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

KR2001010778A, Yang, J.D., July 22, 1999, discloses a method for playing music files in a portable wireless terminal.
